.. " for like 15 seconds and then nothing... or maybe the installation has not started.. Thanks for the help. milen8204: Logging into the web UI will show you the build status oh, thanks :) I have it on my server But I just want to know if it was fixed so back to my original question... i need to provide enough info to replicate this on my notebook i should point out i am using kubuntu airtonix: The same, i've installed 10.10 on my notebook without problems S4nD3r: you didn't need to know what graphics card your notebook had right? milen8204: it was marked as not fixed lstarnes, Thanks hi, how can I see the list of all that are currently logged on in my computer? Gryllida: type username Gryllida, in a terminal type who airtonix: no output, is that right? milen8204: no output, is that right? Gryllida: try typing "top" in the terminal Gryllida, yes that is right Gryllida: for gnome there is the desktop monitor applet on the panel lstarnes: I mean a list of people on my computer, not who is logged on right now. Gryllida: type this in a terminal: grep -a '[1-9]\ *[0-9]\ *' /var/log/messages | head -n 20 | sort -u | less S4nD3r: this is going to be a bit hard to test but if you have a intel graphics card you should have an intel dvi 82157476af
